Liverpool Legends

A Tribute to The Beatles

About

Liverpool Legends is a Beatles tribute act based in Branson, Missouri. The show is built around four musicians and actors who were hand-picked by Louise Harrison, sister of George Harrison.

That connection gives buyers a clear point of distinction, and Louise Harrison has publicly endorsed the group's likeness to the original band. Liverpool Legends are also identified in the source material as the only Beatles tribute band ever to perform Beatles songs on a GRAMMY nominated album.

Their performance history includes sold out shows for more than 17,000 people at Arena Ciudad in Mexico City, along with dates in Guayaquil and Quito, Ecuador, India, Israel, Chile, and Monterrey. They have headlined the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, California, in front of 68,000 people, re-created The Beatles' 1966 concert at Busch Stadium in St. Louis, and performed at Carnegie Hall in New York City on March 5, 2016, where The Beatles appeared in 1964 after The Ed Sullivan Show.

The group was also chosen by producer Jerry Bruckheimer to portray The Beatles. In Branson, Liverpool Legends have spent 10 seasons headlining their own show and have received Best New Show, Best Band, Best Show, and the Visitors' Choice Award for Entertainer of The Year for consecutive years.

For Beatles-focused events, theaters, and tribute buyers, the set spans the full Beatles catalog and continues through the solo years. The show uses detailed musical recreation, costume changes, vintage instruments, and special effects to deliver what they call The Complete Beatles Experience.

Their Beatles-related credentials in the source material also include performances at The Cavern Club in Liverpool, recording at Abbey Road Studios in London, appearances with Denny Laine and Pete Best, a feature on The Travel Channel's Beatlemania Britain, and a headline set during International Beatles Week in Liverpool, where 100,000 Beatles fans filled Victoria Street to hear them perform.
