Shania Twin

A Tribute To Shania Twain

About

Shania Twin is a Shania Twain tribute act led by Donna, a performer based in Las Vegas, Nevada.

Donna's early life involved frequent moves because her father's retail work required the family to relocate often. After leaving home, she settled in Thessalon, Ontario, where she lived for three years and ran a small bakery business from her farmhouse on 160 acres.

She later moved to Sudbury to live and work with her sister. There, strangers regularly told her how much she looked like Shania Twain. According to the original act history, Shania Twain also commented after seeing a poster of Donna, I thought that was me!!! Donna is the best Shania Twain Tribute out there.

Donna then spent countless hours working on the tribute, practicing to sing like Shania, repeatedly watching videos, and studying her moves and stage presentation. After meeting with a music agent who heard her sing and recognized the value of her resemblance, the project moved forward as a full tribute act.

A band was assembled, rehearsals followed for several months, and Donna began touring in March 1996. The act history states she has been on the road since then throughout Canada, the United States, and Europe.

For buyers, the appeal is straightforward: a dedicated Shania Twain tribute built around Donna's long-term focus on the voice, look, and presentation associated with the artist.
