Sonic Temple

A Tribute To The Cult

Sonic Temple

About

Sonic Temple is a Los Angeles-based tribute band focused on the music of The Cult. The band is built around a solid lineup of seasoned players and aims to capture the hard-edged but varied feel associated with The Cult in the nineties, fronted by Ian Astbury and Billy Duffy.

All five members are committed fans of the material, and that shows in both the set and the way they work together. They play the songs because they enjoy them, and they take the band seriously as a unit.

For buyers, the practical side is straightforward: on time every time, no attitudes, no egos, no excessive booze or drugs, and professional attitudes across the board. The band is ready and willing to play anywhere in the USA and beyond for venues and events looking for a tribute set centered on The Cult.
