Full press bio

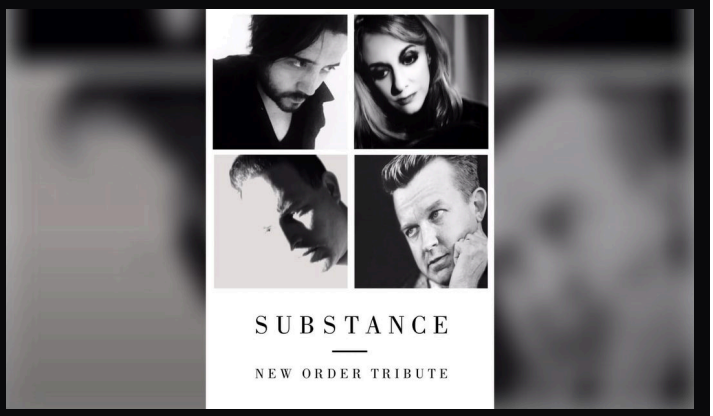

Substance is a New Order tribute focused on recreating the band's 1980s sound with close attention to detail. Now in their sixth year, they've played packed shows at well-known venues across the USA and Mexico. Typical performances run 60–95 minutes, with more than three hours of material to draw from, including classic Joy Division songs New Order still play live. The set includes New Order's classic, instantly recognizable hits—giving dedicated fans detailed recreation and casual fans the songs they grew up on.
