Wild West

Lady Superstars of Country Music

About

Wild West is a country cover band centered on songs made popular by Shania Twain, Carrie Underwood, Martina McBride, The Chicks, Sara Evans, LeAnn Womack, and more.

The group features 5 female lead singers in South California, including Khristina Kay, Jeannie Austin, Jana Givens, and Liz Rohrs. Together they cover a broad range of women in country music, bringing different vocal ranges and tones to the set.

Wild West is known for high-energy, authentic performances. The members come from varied musical backgrounds, including an award-winning Nashville recording artist and country singer, performers with advanced degrees in music, and musicians who have toured nationally.

For buyers looking for a show built around the lady superstars of country, Wild West offers a clear concept, recognizable material, and an experienced lineup focused on women-led country hits.
